Binders full of guest info, registry printouts, magazine clippings, a paper Rolodex, sample invites, and endless Post-its.

Ring, ring: Hoarders is calling.

Put it on hold. Head directly to Cocodot Weddings, a new online resource for planning your big day.

Start the process by choosing a twelve- or eighteen-month membership. Then create your page and import guests (in three weeks' time) via Facebook, MySpace, and A Small World. Keep them in the loop with unlimited virtual announcements (engagement party, save-the-date, bridal shower, wedding invitation) using the modern, cheerful, letterpress-like designs (with a paper option coming soon for folks like Gran Gran and Big Poppa who aren't online). Link in your gift registries and manage R.S.V.P.s right there on the page.

Now go put the Zen back in your den.
